Waggener High School History & Photos, 1961, 2nd. Edition

This is one of many sections that contain information, photos, newspaper articles, internet items, etc. of the St. Matthews area and especially of Waggener High School. Many of the items came from Al Ring's personal collections but many people have helped and I have tried to give credit where I can.

The purpose of this "collection" was to create the history of Waggener and the students and teachers who were there during my time. Being retired I now have time to do many of the things I have always wanted, this project is just one of them. The collection is continuing today, so if you should have old or new information on the St. Matthews area from 1950 to 1962 or Waggener High, please contact Al Ring.

All graphics have been improved to make the resolution as good as possible, but the reader should remember that many came from copies of old newspaper articles and photos. Credit to the source of the photos, etc. is provided whenever it was available. We realize that many items are not identified and regret that we weren't able to provide this information. As far as the newspaper articles that are not identified, 99% of them would have to be from one of three possible sources. The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times or one of the Voice publications. Books that we have used for some information include, Randy, Cactus, Uncle, Ed and the Golden age of Louisville Television, Waggener High School Alumni Directory 1996, Waggener Traditional High School Alumni Directory 2007, Memories of Fontaine Ferry Park, St. Matthews The Crossroads of Beargrass by Samuel W. Thomas, St. Matthews, 25 Years a City Two Centuries a Community, St. Matthews 1960-1995, Waggener Lair's 1958 to 1962, The Holy Warrior, Muhammad Ali, Louisville's Own (An Illustrated Encyclopedia Of Louisville Area Recorded Pop Music From 1953 to 1983).

Explanation of the following pages, (Please Read)

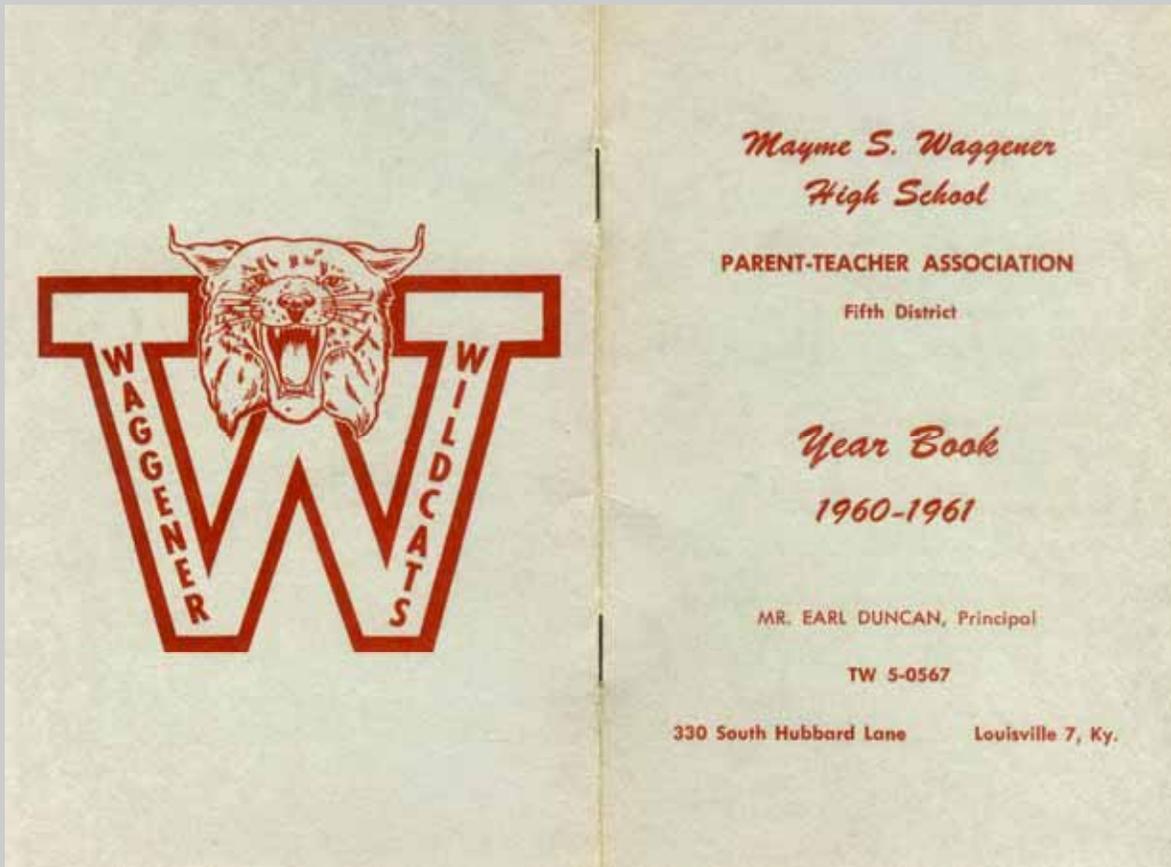

This section is on the history of Waggener High School. Several alumni have helped by providing information for this section along with many articles from The Voice Of St. Matthews. We appreciate everyone's contributions. Also, much of the information is from editions of the Waggener Year books, the Lair.

HELP NEEDED

If you have additional information, photos, etc. please get them to Al Ring so they may be shared with the Alumni of Waggener and friends. Your help is appreciated and needed.

“The Class of 1961” What a feeling the sound of these words gives us. For six long years we have gone to Waggener, always with the thought of eventual graduation somewhere in the remote recesses of our minds. As we approached the end of our last year in high school, many memories returned to us of the time we spent here — excitement, joy, sadness, defeat, and the satisfaction of a job well done. It is the memory of our senior year that will remain with us in the years to come, that will strengthen us in the time of doubt, and that will remind us of the trying but happy time of youth.

Our first two years at Waggener, in the seventh and eighth grades, were primarily spent in becoming accustomed to the vastness and challenge of high school.

It was so wonderful to be a part of the senior high at last. We began a successful freshman year by electing Woody Axton as our president. The other officers were Kenny Lewis, vice-president: Carol Waford, secretary: Joyce Greene! treasurer: and Howie Hatton, sergeant-at-arms. Linda Miller upheld the freshman honor on the cheerleading squad, while Woody Axton was elected Mr. Waggener.

Although in our sophomore year we had no officers to lead us, our class grew together in mind and spirit. Knowledge was our main pursuit. An unforgettable experience was taking biology under Mr. Simpson and Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Pardon came to Waggener and began the first special math course in Kentucky. Susie Cooke, Patsy Gay, and Linda Miller were the sophomore varsity cheerleaders. Representing us on the junior varsity squad were Bunny Laffoon and Lou Thompson. We were proud to have Susie Cooke elected Miss Waggener by the entire student body, and Carol Waford selected basketball queen. Fred Davis was chosen treasurer of the Student Council.

Our junior year proved to be the best yet. We elected as our officers: Fred Davis, president; Susie Cooke, vice-president; Sarah Lloyd, secretary; and Les Snyder, treasurer. The Cocoa Ruins came to life along with the sockhops as our money making projects. All our efforts were great successes due to the untiring contributions of Mrs. Lapsley. Our much enjoyed class functions were the skating party and the picnic at Hogan’s Fountain. We were finally eligible for the Beta Club, and some of us were tapped for the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. Waggener became part of the Youth Speaks Program with Beth Moeller leading our class. Steve Porter was efficient in his position as vice-president of the Student Council. Once again we were well represented in the cheerleading department by Linda Miller, Susie Cooke, and Bunny Laffoon. Our class was not united and we looked forward to our senior year with anticipation and some apprehension.

To become president of the Senior Class was a job coveted by many, but this position went to Fred Davis, a hard-working boy who had proved himself capable the preceding year. Accompany him to complete the leading staff were vice-president. Jim May; secretary, Sarah Lloyd; and treasurer, Susie Cooke.

Our two main money making projects, the Senior Play and the Vaudeville were huge successes. With so many students being given an opportunity to participate, the class became more united.

The Christmas season was a memorable one splashed with parties and other gala activities. It was a great relief after suffering through the College Boards earlier that month. Many were making hopeful plans for college and a steady stream of catalogues and bulletins arrived in homes. The year was wonderful and we began to realize what would be ahead in the final semester of our high school career.

Finally the last moments of the Senior year were here. The Prom, held in the Mason-Dixon Room, will be the one dance different from all others, never to be forgotten; the sermons giving us guidance for the future; and of course graduation. To the seniors it will always be graduation, a climax, a culmination, a finish to all the success and failure of our high school experience. Only in later years will it become Commencement an opening to the future.

Unbelievably soon, we will be separating to follow various paths along the changing road of life. We carry with us only the fondest memories of our six years at Mayme S. Waggener. To the Class of 1961: your future is what you make it, your years here are now history.

Over 70 students chosen for workshop

More than 70 St. Matthews Area High School students have been selected to represent their schools at the Ninth Annual Youth Speaks Workshop scheduled for Feb. 25. The location of the workshop is yet undecided, according to J. Mansir Tydings, executive director of Youth Speaks, Inc.

Waggener High has selected 34 representatives, Eastern High 18, Sacred Heart Academy 12, and Louisville Country Day 8. Two other St. Matthews area High Schools, Trinity and Catholic Country Day, had not submitted their lists of representatives at press time this week.

The students from the sophomore, junior and senior classes are selected by a committee of teachers of their schools. Two representatives from each school will serve on the board of directors, which is responsible for organizing the workshop and deciding upon discussion topics.

Youth Speaks is sponsored by 25 community organizations in Louisville and is operated by the students and an adult board of trustees. Some 600 high school students are expected to attend.

Representing Waggener will be Beth Moeller and Paul Keith, directors, Martye Armstrong, Marcella Blakeslee, Julia Block, Sandy Bridges, Georgia Bruecken, Jim Brunhoeffer, Joyce Cleveland, Stegar Copeland, Jane Eklund, Richard Epstein, Gordon Finley, Paula Givan, Bill Henrichs, Karen Humphrey, Mary Ann Huff, John Koon, Sarah Lloyd, Calvin Johnson, Pat McGrath, Bonnie Meyer, Phyllis Mills, Nancy Ornstein, Judy Ogden, Steve Porter, Sally Sherman, Jim Small, Nancy Sparks, Lois Steiner, Larry Timberlake, Ed Wardley, Eddie Warren and Russell Weikel. Mrs. Anna Jenkins is faculty advisor.

Selected to represent Eastern are Claudia Clark and Fred Heerde, directors, Peyton Ray, Mike Mastropaolo, Mac Caldwell, Nancy Gibbs, Virginia Joyner, Tom Miller, Robert Simms, Mary Matlick, Ronnie Bergamini, Robin Brown, Carol Cheschire, Ann Bickley, Alan Hayes, Frederick Block, James Barnes, and Gilbert Chilton. Mr. William E. Houghton is faculty advisor.

Louisville Country Day's representatives are Vener Keith and Preston Thomas, directors, Mich-Ogden, Grover Cochran, Harold Helm and Mac McClure. Garner Howell is faculty advisor.

From Sacred Heart are Susanne Goche and Rosann Velle, directors, Kathy Beckman, Aud-

Quill and Scroll to sponsor writing contest in January

Quill and Scroll, an honorary literary society for high school journalists, is sponsoring its annual writing contest for all Waggener students, from Jan. 5 to Jan. 26. Preident Driek Bestebreurtje says that all entries will be submitted in four divisions: short story; poetry; essay; and expository writing.

All entries must be: original; typed double-spaced or in ink on 8 inch by 12 inch paper, and identified with name and home-room on each sheet. Contestants should give their writing to Quill and Scroll sponsor, Mrs. Katherine Kirwan in room 234. Prizes for the winners will be decided upon, but the first place winner will definitely be published in "Introspect", the literary magazine.

Nancy Sparks wins contest

Nancy Sparks, a senior, is the winner of the mad ad unscramble contest published in the Dec. 19 issue of the "Chit-Chat". She received two free tickets to the Seneca game in January as a prize.

The P.-T.A. meeting has been changed to Thursday evening Jan. 12 at 8 o'clock, according to Mrs. James W. May, president. On Jan. 9, a board meeting will be held in the home-ec room at Waggener at 8 o'clock p.m. All board members are urged to attend.

The Waggener chapter of the F.H.A., sponsored by Mrs. Janice Porter, has elected officers for 1960-61. They are: President, Caszie Stanberry; First Vice-Pres., Marilyn Guenther; Second Vice Pres., Luci Prochnau; Secretary, Carolyn Fredenberg; Treasurer, Barbara Grube; Historian, Joyce Nieman; Parliamentarian, Emma Lou Dickson; Reporter, Linda Spence; Recreation Leader, Joyce Klosterman; Song Leader, Gerry Horlander.

Thespian Society to present play

"Along Came Harriet", a farce comedy in one act by Le Roma Greth, will be presented under the sponsorship of the Thespian Society on Jan. 18 at Waggener. Linda Borsch is student director, and Mr. Lauren Bowen is the faculty sponsor. "Riders to the Sea", a one act play by John M. Synge, will also be performed the same night.

Don't forget to see the Waggener Wildcats meet the Eastern Eagles this evening in the Fern Creek High gymnasium for the second game of the J.C.I.T.

Waggener PTA to hear program on Educational TV

A program on Educational TV will be presented at the Waggener High School P.T.A. meeting tonight, Jan. 12, at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Roy Cobb, producer-coordinator of the Kentuckiana Educational TV Council, will introduce the program with an overview of TV teaching and learning methods in Kentuckiana. She will use slides.

The remainder of the time will be used for questions which will be addressed to the following panel: Pat Crawford, History; Joe Driskill, Math; Richard Edwards, English; Ed Monheimer, Math; Mrs. David Weller, Science; and Miss Ann Crockett, a former Waggener teacher who was selected as a studio teacher for the Kentuckiana Educational TV Council.

Members of the P.T.A. will also be favored with music by the high school male quartet including David Stutzenberger, Larry Timberlake, Allen Purdy and Buddy Edwards.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Waggener science team tours Bell Laboratories

A teacher-student team from Waggener High School returned Monday after making a tour of the Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill, N. J. last weekend.

Ralph Huffsey, 202 Colonial Dr., science teacher at Waggener, and John Mader, 4621 Beaver Rd., student, made the tour along with some 50 other science teachers and students from points throughout the United States.

The program was sponsored by the local Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, and was put on to encourage the further development of those students who are genuinely interested in science and who have a flair toward scientific research.

During the tour, the group observed the operations and the scientific projects now under way for further communications.

3 Seniors get national awards in English

Gayle Hoffman, Julia Bloch, and Jim Hawley, three Waggener seniors, were awarded recognition for excellence in English by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Of the eight awards given in the state, Gayle and Julia each received one, while Jim was one of the state's eight runners-up.

Each school is allowed at least one entry and more as determined by its size. On this basis Waggener was able to submit the names of three students in their junior year.

These three students were given

English exams sent by the N. C. T. E., and samples of writing which they had previously done was submitted. They were also required to do a piece of extemporaneous writing on a topic sent by the N. C. T. E.

Although no prizes are awarded to these winners, each will be recommended for a scholarship from the college of his choice. "An N. C. T. E. award is as high a recommendation for a scholarship as is given by any organization," stated Mrs. Katherine Kirwan. "This is the first time Waggener has submitted any students for these awards, and we are proud to have so many winners."

The Wildcats face the Butler Bears tomorrow night at Masonic Home gym.

Evaluation set for Feb. 5-7

Evaluation by the Southern Association of Colleges and School will be in progress at Waggener from February 5-7.

A committee of 30, to be headed by Dr. Morris Cierley of the University of Kentucky, will visit and inspect the equipment, facilities, student behavior, the teachers and their means of instruction. The committee, which consists of college teachers, members of the State Department of Kentucky, administrators, superintendents of public schools, supervisors, principals, and classroom teachers, is composed of different members every time a school is evaluated.

One of their major aims is to see what part knowledge plays in the instruction at Waggener. Each teacher will be visited by 3 different officials during each hour of the 2 day period.

This evaluation is done every 4 years, although a minor evaluation is conducted by the State Department of Kentucky every year.

Teachers will evaluate their own department, then meet together to compare their notes. They will exchange ideas, and the recommendations made may get for their departments what is needed.

A dinner for the evaluation committee members and the faculty will be held Sunday, Feb. 5 in the Waggener cafeteria. Students will participate in the program, and entertainment will be provided by Larry Timberlake, Dave Stutzenburger, Allen Purdy, and Buddy Edwards.

French club members named

New members to the French Club also include: Florence Watts, Marilyn Powers, Richard Howington, Paul Keith, and Sharon Saunders.

Mathis finishes strong second

Thinly star Oscar "Butch" Mathis, 1960 mile and 880 High School State Champion, finished a strong second in the High School 880 yard run in the Mason Dixon Games at Freedom Hall, Feb. 18.

Mathis, Waggener's only entry in the gala affair which included such celebrities as Wilma Rudolph, Ralph Boston, Al Lawrence, and Ernie Cunniffe, led for three laps of the 220 yard board track before being nosed out by the powerful stretch sprint of Trinity's Raleigh Baker. Baker's time for the event was 2:01.4.

Jimmy Dorsey has been selected as an alternate for Annapolis and will go to Great Lakes for his physical soon.

2nd round of plays set

Waggener's Troop 2023 of the National Thespan Society will produce a second "Night of Plays" in conjunction with Oldham County High School on Feb. 27, for a county-wide audience.

The plays, which will be presented in Waggener's auditorium, earned the "Superior" (or highest) rating in the Regional Drama Festival which took place at the University of Louisville last month. They are John Millington Synge's "Riders to the Sea", and Thornton Wilder's "The Happy Journey to Camden and Trenton."

Rounding out the evening will be a comedy with an all-female cast, "Along Came Harriet," by Le Roma Greth. Thespan President Beth Moeller explained this presentation by saying, "We had so many requests to repeat "Riders to the Sea" for those here at Waggener that we decided to take this opportunity to produce it again. We have encouraged attendance from all the high schools as the Synge play is a selection from the Senior lit book."

"Riders to the Sea" is an Irish tragedy starring Rose Baldwin, Julie Bloch, Barbara Shenson, and John Fish, under the direction of Harry Lynn. An original music score has been composed and directed for the play by Larry Timberlake.

"The Happy Journey to Camden and Trenton," which Oldham County will present, is a Thornton Wilder comedy about the roaring twenties. Doris Cassidy directs Susan Stearns, Jimmy Rogers, Betty Cassidy, Barry Felton and Lawrence Fraley in the play.

Youth Speaks held its ninth annual workshop at DuPont Manual High on Saturday, Feb. 25. "Africa — The Dark Continent" was the topic discussed by this Louisville organization which seeks to promote student and adult concern for community and world problems and the furthering of democracy.

Waggener's Youth Speaks' sponsor is Mrs. Annie Laurie Jenkins, English and Core teacher. Beth Moeller and Paul Keith are the Student Board members who represent the 35 W.H.S. members. At the all-day workshop on Feb. 25, Beth Moeller served as a recorder for one of the student discussion groups, and Pat McGrath, a discussion leader.

Plays rescheduled Tuesday night

"The Night of Plays" originally scheduled for Feb. 27 will be presented Tuesday night, March 7, according to Mr. Lauren Bowen, Thespian sponsor. The three plays will be given in the auditorium; tickets are 75 cents.

The Girl's Athletic Association basketball team will play Eastern on March 9. The team consists of eleventh and twelfth grade members of G.A.A. who frequently play other girls' teams in the area. The officers are Karen Garret, president; Rose Baldwin, vice-president; Sandy Nichol, secretary; and Diane Taylor, treasurer.

Waggener will meet Country Day tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Eastern High's gym in the semi-finals of the 28th district tournament games.

Waggener PTA reports on evaluation; officers named

Waggener High School P.T.A., in its March meeting, announced it now has 2,438 members, including 98 teachers. A parent Evaluation Study Group was announced for 10:30, March 7, at Beargrass Church. Teen-age problems will be the subject.

New officers elected were: President, Mrs. Frederick Kuestner; first vice-president, Mrs. Lawrence E. Bloom; second vice-president, Mrs. Rucker Todd; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Burns Speer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. C. Major; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Theobald, and historian, Mrs. Joseph E. Green.

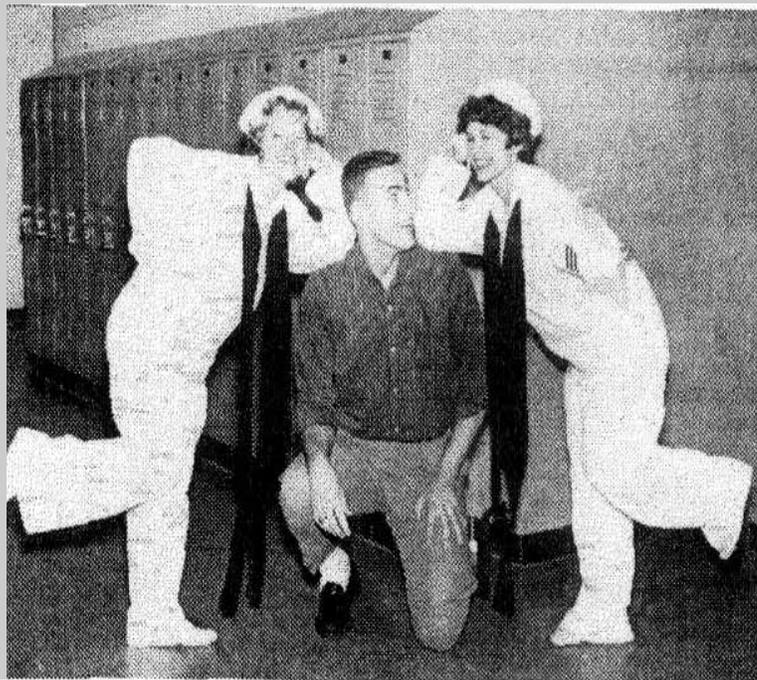

Arthur Draut, assistant principal, gave a thumb nail sketch of the community as he presented it to the Southern Association for Accrediting. Sidney Baxter, assistant principal, discussed the 5-point plan in operation at Waggener and how students are selected to fit into the plan.

Mr. Duncan reviewed the report of the Southern Association. A Dr. Cierley, chairman of the Evaluating Committee, commended the staff, the students, and the community on its school. He said he was impressed with the attitude and behavior of the students, and noted that Waggener has one of the lowest drop-out rates in the nation. Eighty-four of last year's seniors are now in college, 80 were accepted by the college of their first choice.

"The real test of the school, however," Mr. Cierley said, "will be how many stay in college and make good". The committee praised the well trained staff, but lamented that one-third were new this year. It was pleased with the wide rich curriculum, one of the best in the State of Kentucky, and especially mentioned the Core System. It felt that the 50 extra curricular activities Waggener offers are necessary and good. The crowded conditions and student-teacher ratio was criticized. The committee heartily agreed Waggener is doing an outstanding job under the conditions.

David Aspy told the parents about scheduling of classes for the coming year and counseling given students in meeting requirements.

Junior Red Cross Drive set

Two hundred dollars is the goal of the Junior Red Cross Enrollment Drive, which home-room representatives will carry on March 20-24.

Contributions go to the Service Fund of the Louisville chapter of the Junior Red Cross and will be used by the more than 250 schools enrolled in the Junior Red Cross, for their JRC materials and activities.

Waggener's Junior Red Cross, under the leadership of president Jamie Geiser, will also hold an assembly during March. Miss Majorie Smith, director of the Louisville chapter Junior Red Cross, and Mr. Conrad Ott will speak. Slides explaining various Red Cross and JRC programs and activities will be shown.

Mrs. Juanita Guess is sponsor.

Students planning on going to Washington on the Junior Class trip must have balance of money in by March 13.

Congratulations to Bette Davis upon having her paper cut-out of Kentucky "pioneers" in a Canadian art education book.

Mr. Averitt was the speaker at the World Affairs Seminar on Africa, Feb. 27.

Over 200 entries were received in the Quill and Scroll creative writing contest. They are now being judged by the members.

Doris Clay and Doug Dentz are to be congratulated upon being the winners of the instrumental soloist contests sponsored by the St. Matthews Woman's Club.

Groups attend publication clinic in Lexington

Members of the Chit-Chat and Lair staffs will combine with the Waggener Thespians and travel to Lexington to attend the publications clinics and again perform the "superior" rated play Riders to the Sea on Friday, March 10.

The Thespians' play will be given at 12:30 p.m. in the Guignol Theater on the University of Kentucky campus and will be part of a three-day State Meet given annually at the University.

The annual press clinic will include sectional instruction covering sports, publicity, advertising, management, editorial, news and feature writing, and financing.

Waggener Seniors will give Vaudeville Show tonight

The Waggener High School Senior Class, will again present its vaudeville show, "Show Business, U.S.A.", at 8 p.m. tonight at the Waggener Gym on Hubbards Lane. Tickets will cost 75 cents and all proceeds will be used for the Senior Class gift to the school and for graduation activities.

The theme of the three acts is a presentation of the Showboat Era, the Follies, and Modern Day show business. It is a variety show of skits, songs, dances, and bands. An added attraction will be the professional 20-piece orchestra composed mainly of U of L students. There will be special sets and colorful scenery made especially for the production. Approximately 200 students, faculty, and parents have been working on this vaudeville show.

Some of the acts to be included are a complete old fashioned melodrama with an all male cast; a precision Can-Can dance with 10 girls; a startling presentation of the song "Shy" from the Broadway hit, Once Upon A Mat-tress; "The Dance of the Flower Ballet" from the Nutcracker Suite performed by Waggener's football team; and a take-off on the Quartet from Rigoletto.

Mrs. S. C. Evans is the faculty advisor and director; Mrs. Charles Woodring is assistant director; Miss Pat Merkley, art director and design and scenery advisor; Mrs. A. C. Rogers, chorus director; Mrs. Dave Lawrence and Miss Alice Reed, accompanists; David Stutzenberger, student director; John Blunk, technical director; Henry Mashburn, set construction; Driek Bestebreurtje, stage manager, and Bobbi Freeman, Ryna Hradecky, Susie Cooke, choreographers.

Miss Keith wins sewing contest

Diane Keith, Waggener Senior student, won the student sewing contest sponsored by the Woman's Club of St. Matthews, and was presented with a gift certificate to the Alix Adams Charm School.

Miss Keith's outfit was a two-piece coat and dress of spring green. The coat, with a silk print lining matching the sheath dress, can be worn on either side.

Judging the outfits were Mrs. Virginia Thomas of Dwight Thomas; Mrs. Elizabeth Speed of Singer Sewing Machine Co., and Mrs. G. Frey, buyer in Bacon's fabric department.

WAGGENER HIGH SCHOOL'S large enrollment, its lack of an over-all athletic program, immaturity of students, the desire to be popular and the inability of some students to find a social outlet were among problems a "town hall meeting" Monday night decided are facing the school's students.

Some 140 parents, students and teachers discussed such subjects as athletics, social activities in and out of school and popularity in an attempt to determine what was behind the recent "Waggener-Seneca affair" in which more than two dozen Seneca High School students were arrested.

While there is an intense rivalry between the county's two large high schools in this area, a spokesman said that the trouble had been overly emphasized for which she blamed "the newspapers."

The meeting was called by the school PTA's Committee on Parent Education, which is sponsoring four study series this year. Mrs. James W. May, PTA president, told the group that the committee had had one previous meeting on the "Waggener-Seneca affair", where it was decided that student behavior following athletic events should be discussed by the students and parents.

She said that all the problems of a large urban high school could not be solved in one night, but she explained that good can come from the meeting, "if we go into it with the right attitudes, remembering that there is a very delicate line drawn between 'airing a situation', which is right and democratic, and 'stirring it up' which is wrong."

While there was no specific over-all program suggested for the school, the group which discussed athletics, said that the school's general sports program was not at fault but rather that it should be expanded to include more students. At one point it suggested that a gym period be compulsory for all students, but it said Principal Earl Duncan estimated that two additional gyms would be required for such a program. An intramural program, the group theorized, would relax tensions and expend energy, improve posture and help physically weak students. The group also said it thought the school's band program should be available to more students with talent rather than be confined just to those students enrolled in music.

The group on athletics said that the students' pep rally yells had been misinterpreted; it thought booing was bad behavior and that adults set the behavior pattern for students at athletic events.

It was pointed out that one student had said that Waggener students were not resentful toward Seneca students but that they (Waggener) just didn't like Seneca as a school. This, the group said, was jealousy.

A group reporting on social life in school said that Waggener does not sponsor planned sock hops but there are some 46 activity groups which do sponsor soc hop activity. It said that school sponsored dances are always under supervision, both at the school and away.

The group said there are clubs in which all students can find an interest but it noted that some students don't have the initiative to join an activity group, which it blamed in part on Waggener being a large school.

It was suggested that help be provided students, particularly those in junior high, on getting acquainted. It also noted that the community is not school centered but rather its social life is primarily outside of the school.

As for those activities outside of the school, it was noted that the social clubs are good for students, but that there are more clubs for girls than for boys. It was said that some 50 to 60 percent of the boys do not belong to any club.

This group said there should be some common ground for all schools and suggested that this might be accomplished through a student council. It said that a time restriction on students' night life should be made but there should not be a curfew.

What "Price Popularity" was another topic discussed. This group noted that students strive for conformity with those whom they are trying to be popular. They decided that part of teenagers' troubles in this area are partly due to their immaturity; some students, they said, have not learned the secret of being popular, that some are born with personality which makes them popular while others don't get the neck of it.

One of the dozen or so students there was Sherrie Silvey who won plaudits from the crowd for pleading the teenage cause. She said that students who can stand up for what is right gains popularity, and as to the charge of sports cars being used by Waggener students, she replied that most of the cars belong to the parents. To another charge that mothers might be doing too many chores for their daughters, Sherrie retorted that all teenagers do not have that advantage. She admitted that if she for some cause over-slept her mother might iron a blouse for her at 7:30 a.m. but Sherrie said she most always ironed her own blouse.

As to financial problems, Sherrie again came to the defense of her group. She said that many teenagers make their own spending money, by working for it, and again cited her own case in making the point.

One mother thought that the teenagers should be given more responsibility in taking care of their personal needs while at home in order to prepare them for college life.

This group also brought out that there is too much pressure on students to make good grades in order to be popular; it was noted that cheating is more flagrant than is realized at the school, and at least one parent thought that the students have too much home work. Some fault was found with the present grading system. The parents largely admitted that much of the pressure to be socially accepted is attributed to themselves, in that the parents set the standards. It, too, was generally agreed that training of values do not start early enough at home.

Attending the meeting was Louis Loukhof, administrative assistant of the County Board of Education, who also told the group he didn't believe that athletics were over-emphasized. He said that the parents and students showed a "manifest" interest in the problems by attending the meeting, adding that young people, by reason of their immaturity, need direction, but there must be some common ground between the parents and the students.

Prior to the general business of the meeting, Mrs. May told the group that the PTA deserved a little apology because of a newspaper editorial which said that "Seneca was working on the problem and that it was too bad that other parents were not concerned." She explained that at the time some 35 to 40 of her group had already met for several hours working on plans which had led to the Monday night meeting.

Parents, students and teachers discuss student problems at Waggener High School in a "town hall meeting" Monday night. Here is a group, one of four, discussing athletics.

Linda Miller crowned Queen

Linda Miller, a senior cheerleader, was crowned Basketball Queen by Coach "Doc" Adams at the annual Basketball Dance March 25 in the gym.

Members of the Queen's Court were as follows: Beth Moeller, Sandy Nichol, Cassandra Colvin, Judy Maddox, and Joyce Greene.

A sports banquet was held to honor the basketball and swim teams in the cafeteria on March 25. Members of both teams received their letters and recognition. Superintendent of County Schools, Richard Van Hoose was the principal speaker for the affair.

The Junior Class, sponsor of the dance, will receive the proceeds which will be used for their activities next year.

Larry Timberlake wins on editorial

Larry Timberlake is the winner of a national Quill and Scroll award for an outstanding editorial published in a high school paper. He is now eligible for a $500 college scholarship. In the Regional Speech Festival, Larry won a superior rating for extemporaneous speaking. This qualifies him for participation in state competition at Lexington.

Annual Latin Club Banquet slated tomorrow

The annual Latin Club Banquet will be held tomorrow evening in the school cafeteria. A slave auction, dinner, and play will highlight the festivities.

"The Twin Menacchmi", a comedy of errors by Plautus, will be performed by Latin III and IV students. The players are: Bruce Douglas, Menacchmus I; Woody Wilson, Menacchmus II; Walker Cunningham, Brush; Jack Burrice, Messenio; Phyllis Mills, Erotium; Beth Moeller, wife of Menacchmus I; Steve Porter, father of Menacchmus I's wife; Gayle Hassman, Cylinda.

Tina Rogers and Gordon Finley are the directors. Barbara Hampton is the prop manager, and Mary Ann Huff and Diane Lamar are the prompters. Mrs. Zera Baird is the faculty sponsor.

Orchestra leaves on 3-day trip

The orchestra left today for a three day trip to perform two concerts at high schools in Kingsport and Johnson City, Tenn.

Mrs. Eleanor Ritchie, faculty advisor, accompanied the 45 orchestra members. Chaperones are Robert Niel, Dr. William Yates, and Mrs. Stanley Haberlin.

The two concerts will feature soloists Doug Dietz on the trombone, and Kirk Newell on the French Horn.

New schedules set

Sidney Baxter, assistant principal, has announced that the scheduling of next year's classes will start after spring vacation.

Most of the students have turned in their registration sheets. These sheets are now being tabulated to determine the number of students who have signed up for each course.

After this tabulation, Earl Duncan will know how many new teachers will be needed. Mr. Baxter said that new teachers will probably not be needed due to the loss of about 300-400 students to the new Westport Jr. High School.

Now that spring vacation is over Mr. Baxter and student volunteers will start the actual scheduling.

A new course to be offered next year is personal typewriting-notetaking. The student will take typing for one semester and then will learn Gregg notetaking the second semester. German IV will also be offered next year. This will complete the four-year language program of French, Spanish, Latin, and German at Waggener.

biology, Mr. Edward M. Simpson and Mr. A. Wilms Kiefer; chemistry, Dr. Richard H. Wiley and Dr. R. W. Finholt; physics, Mr. Curt T. Logsdon and Dr. Donald M. Bennet; and general science, Dr. R. E. Reitmair, Mr. Walter Feibes and Mr. E. S. Owen.

The science fair is sponsored by the Waggener High School Science Club and any class may come and see the fair today, if they are accompanied by a teacher. Only chemistry, biology and prize winning projects will be shown.

Janet Chambers cops County typing contest

Janet Chambers, a junior F.B.L.A. member, has captured the Jefferson County typing contest and thereby has qualified for the national eliminations. The winner of the national contest will receive a free trip to Sweden.

Last fall Mrs. Evans' biology students wrote essays on "How Does Fish and Wildlife Conservation Benefit My Community" to submit to a state-wide contest. Calvin Johnson's work has been judged best from Waggener. He was presented with a "Certificate of Outstanding Achievement" by the Courier Journal, sponsor of the annual contest.

Mrs. Alex Prescott, of 3515 St Germaine Ct., was hostess of Tuesday to her bridge club. Her guests were Mrs. Sam Stalter, Mrs. W. P. Dodge, Mrs. India Derrick, Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. W. D. Milne, Mrs. R. J. Hutchison and Mrs. Mauric Kayner.

Waggener teacher will vie for Derby Queen

World history and a flare for sports cards may not have much in common with the Kentucky Derby, but when it comes to a beautiful brunette with curves who cares? In the latter category Miss Elisabeth Ann Kirtley, a teacher at Waggener High School, fits very well.

And if the wheel turns opposite her name April 28 at the Kentucky Derby Festival Ball she will reign as queen at the seven-day festivities, and the other four entrants will be her court. She is at least assured of a place in the derby festivities, being one of five from the State who will have a place on the wheel of fortune when it points out the queen this year.

Miss Kirtley, 23, teacher of world history and eight grade core, is in her first year at Wagener, transplanted to St. Matthews by way of Atlanta from her native Owensboro. But she is a University of Kentucky graduate who says of her brief stay out of the state: "I only went there (Atlanta) with a roommate but I got homesick for Kentucky. It is the best state as far as I'm concerned."

While one may not question her loyalty to the old Commonwealth, there was another reason for her wanting to return to Kentucky. She has a very special friend at Lexington, whom she sees most every weekend. Too many dates she admits interferes too much with her teaching and consequently doesn't go in for dating much through the week.

Beauty contests are not new to Miss Kirtley. While at the University of Kentucky (1956-59), she was entered as Kentuckian Queen and in the Little Kentucky Derby. Also at her native Owensboro, still the residence of her mother, Mrs. W. W. Kirtley, she was a candidate for Soap Box Derby Queen.

At U. of K., where she was a history major, she was a member of several student organizations, such as the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority and the Pan ?????? League. She also was a cheerleader at Center College, where she attended her first year of college. At Owensboro, where she went to high school, she was a cheerleader and president of various student organizations.

Miss Kirtley, known as "Lis" to her friends, goes in for needle work, likes to cook, drive sports cars, some classical music, most popular tunes and insists she doesn't like bee-bop.

While marriage may be not farther than a year or so away for her, she plans to further her education with a masters degree leading to consulting in education. She plans to attend graduate school at U. of K. this summer and possibly continue there next fall. Otherwise she hopes to return to Waggener.

She is the only girl in her family but the oldest of three children. Her mother is an attorney at Owensboro, and currently making a race for representative. But politics doesn't occupy much of Elizabeth's interest, however.

Miss Kirtley stands 5'3" weighs about 123 and measures 36-24-36. she lives with the Wilson Wyatts on Alta Vista Road.

Waggener—Baughman, Long wind Science awards, by Jane Eklund

John Baughman and Howard Lang won first place for the best overall project in the Waggener's sixth annual science fair, held April 12 at the school. The winning project was "Light and Electrostatics."

Bill Henrichs and Paul Keith took second place overall for their "Hydrogenation of Oils." Bruce Chang is the third place overall winner with his "Antioxidants of Animal Fats."

In the biology division, the winners are: first place John Weeter, "Artificial Kidney," second place, Rod Larmee and Jim High "Solar Powered Cooker," third place, Doug Deitz and Bill Harrer, "Dogfish Shark."

In the chemistry division: first, Bill Henrichs and Paul Keith; second, Bruce Chang; third, Bruce Douglas and Bill Young, "glass."

In the physics division: first, David Weller, "Radio Controlled Dial System;" second, John Baughman and Howard Long; third, Henry Mashburn, "Radio Frequency Plasma Generator."

Alice Almond, Bob Eklund, and Lynn Alson were the three first place winners in the junior high division. Their projects respectively are as follows: "Structure of Stems," "Anatomy and Dissection," and "Water Pump."

Stagar Copeland won the speech contest with his presentation of "Growth and Properties of Crystal Whiskers."

The overall and first place winners, who received trophies, were the guests of the St. Matthews Kiwanis Club for dinner at Howard Johnson's on Shelbyville Road. At that time the students displayed and explained their projects to the Kiwanis members who supported the science fair.

Buschemeyer, Miller win car rally: Gewn Buschemeyer and Hal Miller came in first in the Waggener car rally on April 16. The runner-up team was that of Bowden/Morris and Connor/Conley placed third.

The rally was sponsored by the P.T.A., and organized and supervised by Bill Espich and David Miller. Each team consisting of a driver and a navigator followed a 60.6 mile course in the St. Matthews area.

Fourth, fifth, and sixth place winners were: in order: McDonald/Tate, Cates/Carson, and Cunningham/Douglas.

The next car rally will be held on May 7 at 1 p.m. It will start at the parking lot and is for Waggener students only.

Janet Chambers in regional typing tourney: Miss Janet Chambers has been invited to represent her school at the Facit Accuracy Contest in Typing "Regional Tournament." Having already received a handsome medal as a class champion, she was selected to compete in the Regional as one of the 500 top typists in the nation. This select group of Regional contestants had perfect typing papers that were the best among 8,000 class winners.

This educational typing contest is sponsored by Facit Inc., distributor of Facit typewriters, calculators and Odhner adding machines.

Over 250,000 high school students have participated in Facit's unique contest that features "perfect copy" - only errorless papers were accepted. Mrs. Marvin Horton, Janet's teacher, who was awarded a contest achievement certificate, indicates that "The stress on accuracy constitutes a very realistic approach in typing proficiency. Employees" she says, "are much more interested in a typist who can produce errorless work, than one who is first by inaccurate."

25 Regional contests will be throughout the United States and all winners will receive a deluxe Facit portable typewriter. Janet will compete in the Regional contest at Kettering, Ohio, on April 22. Of the 25 Regional winners throughout the country 10 will receive on all expense-paid trip to New York City to compete in the Finals.

Annual concert is slated

The junior high choruses and the three Waggener bands will combine for their annual concert Tuesday, May 2 at 8:00 in the gym.

The bands directed by Mr. Carl Markert, are divided into beginning junior high and high school divisions. The beginning band will play a special program of four numbers ending with "The Marine's Hymn". "The Children's Prayer" from Hansel and Gretel will be the special feature for the junior high band. The senior high school band will play a medley of eight songs climaxing the evening with the "Dixieland Concerto". Freshmen George Barrows, will play "Theme from the Apartment" as his piano solo.

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Brooks is comprised of over 200 students. The two groups that will participate are the junior high school mixed and all-girl choruses. The mixed chorus will sing six songs, including two Negro spirituals and the "Sound of Music" by Rogers and Hammerstein. The all-girl chorus, accompanied by Sharron Spalding, an eighth grader, will sing four selections. The highlight of their performance will be "My Favorite Things" also by Rogers and Hammerstein.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased in the cafeteria this week for 50 cents.

Paula Givan named editor of Lair

Paula Givan will serve as 1961-62 Lair editor-in-chief, Mr. Nelson Jones, sponsor of the yearbook, announces.

The senior staff members and their positions for next year are as follows: Carol Rouse, business manager; Georgia Brucken, managing editor; Eddie Warren, sports editor; Sue Stafford, art editor; Gaye Duncan, subscription manager; Jenipher Blee, treasurer; Jane Kiefer, copy editor; Jim Stevenson, photographer; Chris Pugh, advertising manager.

The junior members are as follows: Marty Speer, assistant advertising manager; Frank Thomas, assistant sports editor; Kristen Hansen, assistant subscription manager; Barbara Shenson, organizations editor; Martha Wilde, favorites editor.

These students were chosen on faculty recommendation and academic records from those who submitted their names to Mr. Jones earlier in the year.

"This year the Lair will be the largest high school yearbook in the state with 276 pages," Lee Bailey, 1960-61 editor-in-chief stated.

The Lair will feature a new cover design, part of the inside in color, and a new student life division. The distribution of the yearbook will be handled through the homerooms during the early part of May.

Winners given in writing contest

The Quill and Scroll Society has finished judging the 275 entries in its Third Annual Creative Writing Contest.

In the senior high short story division, the first prize winner went to Helen Bisha; second prize, Bonnie Meyer; third, Bruce Chang. First prize in the senior high essay contest went to Linda Borch; second to Bill Hinrichs; and third, Gayle Hoffmann. Four poems tied for first place in the senior high poetry division. Two of these were written by Julie Bloch, and two by Helen Bisha. No second or third prizes were awarded.

In the junior high division, first prize winner in the short story division was Karen DeVore, and second, Karol Menzie. The essay contest was won by Jan Heckenkamp, with second prize going to Lindie Shelby. Ann Marshall won first prize in the poetry division with two poems, and second prize went to Carey Worcester. No third prizes were given.

All winners will be published in Introspect, Waggener's literary magazine, which goes on sale May 1. It will cost 50 cents a copy, and contain the winners not only of the Creative Writing Contest, but also of the Introspect Spontaneous Writing Contest, and the winner of the Cover Design Contest. Now in its second year of existence, Introspect contains writing by Waggener students from seventh through twelfth grades.

Waggener students launch drive, by Jane Eklund

“Books, books, more books.”

This is the cheer of the Waggener Quill and Scroll Society as it conducts its first Book drive which starts this week and ends May 18. The community at large and every English and Core class in the school will be contacted by the 33 Society members.

Books of all types are being collected from donors, and are given to the library which will accept all those that are usable. Monetary donations are being collected and placed in a general fund from which the library will purchase books of its choice.

Individuals may contribute money with a minimum of $3.50 for the library to buy a book (or books) in which the donors will be designated.

Driek Bestebeurtje, president of Quill and Scroll and a senior, stated. “This drive is being conducted as a necessary benefit for the library. We are also doing it as a departing gesture to the school and to set a pattern for succeeding Society members.

The Quill and Scroll Society is an international honorary literary society for outstanding high school journalists. The Chapter at Waggener unlike most others is not purely honorary but tries to serve the school. The Book Drive is an example of this service, and Mrs. Katherine Kirwan, faculty sponsor, commented. “I think it is a worthwhile idea but it will need the full cooperation of the school and community for its success.”

Waggener—Student Council officers to be named tomorrow, by Jane Eklund

The election of the 61-62 Student Council officers will be held Friday, May 5 in the individual homerooms. Paul Keith and Jim Brunhoeffer, juniors, are in the race for the presidency.

Sophomores John Koon and Russell Garth are vying for the office of vice-president. Chris Pugh, Elaine Bahe, and Ann Haysley, juniors, are the candidates for secretary. Mike Skelton and Jack Knight, juniors, are competing for the office of treasurer.

All candidates are delivering campaign speeches to the student body today in assemblies second and fifth periods. Tomorrow each student in grades eight through eleven, excluding those who will attend the new Westport Road School, will be permitted to vote for four officers. These plans have been coordinated by Mr. Swann, adviser, and Phil Scherer, 60-61 Student Council President.

Janet Chambers qualifies in contest: Janet Chambers, eleventh grader, has qualified for the regional invitational contest and received a class medal in the second National Facit Accuracy Contest in Typing.

Janet competed with 50 school winners from Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia, and Indiana at Dayton on Saturday, April 22. Janet's speed in words per minute period was 71.6 compared to the speed of last year's national winner, 67, according to Mrs. Imogene Horton, adviser.

During this contest over 210,000 students have participated and in the various stages will be narrowed down to ten finalists. These ten and their advisors will be invited to New York the first week in June for the national contest. An all expense paid trip to Sweden is the grand prize, and runners-up will be awarded trips within the U.S.A.

Congratulations to the bands and choruses for their fine performance last Tuesday evening in the annual concert, held in the gym. Mr. Carl Market directs the three bands, and Mrs. Brooks leads the choruses comprised of over 200 students.

Area High Schools eye commencement

Plans for commencement exercises at area high schools were being completed this week while plans at Eastern, Waggener and Sacred Heart were completed this week.

Eastern will graduate 187 students Tuesday night at Freedom Hall, with Dr. William S. Slider, minister of Elizabethtown Methodist Church, delivering the major speech. Monday, the school will hold its annual Honors Day at the school starting at 9:30 a.m. and at 3 p.m. Sunday will be the baccalaureate services at the Beargrass Christian Church, with the Rev. Allon Harrod, minister of Chaplin Methodist Church in Nelson County, as speaker.

Waggener High School will hold its second commencement exercises on Thursday, May 25, at 8 p.m. at Freedom Hall. Approximately 360 students are expected to get diplomas.

Dr. Phillip Davidson, president of the University of Louisville, will deliver the major address to Waggener graduating students. The Rev. Dr. Edwin Perry, pastor of Broadway Baptist Church, will give the invocation, and the Rev. Dr. Joseph Stiles, professor of church administration at Southern Baptist Seminary, will give the benediction.

Waggener's baccalaureate services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Broadway Baptist Church, 4000 Brownsboro Rd. Taking part in the program will be Dr. Arie D. Bestebreurtje, pastor of Calvin Presbyterian Church; Dr. D. Swan Haworth, associate professor of psychology of religion at Southern Baptist Seminary; the Rev. A. Leon Goodley pastor of Prospect Baptist Church, and the Rev. Thomas Stanbery, pastor of Westport Baptist Church. All are parents of graduating seniors.

Also Waggener's girl's ensemble, directed by Mrs. Bernice Ely, will sing at the baccalaureate.

Sacred Heart Academy will graduate 110 at the academy auditorium on June 1.

Dr. John Ford, of Bellermine College, will give the major address to the Academy seniors. Others on the program will be Suzanne Goehle, valedictorian, and Cynthia Ryan, salutatorian.

Msgr. Feliz N. Pitt, superintendent of the Catholic School Board, will present diplomas to the Academy graduates.

Plans are incomplete for Trinity High School's commencement exercises, but they are planned for May 30 at Bellermine College Gymnasium.

A wrecker carried to Prospect the demolished car in which William L. Hinrichs, 17, was killed and Miss Ann Henderson, 18, was hurt critically. The car hit a tree.

Youth Killed, Girl Injured On After-The-Dance Drive

A light-hearted drive to find an early morning snack after a dance at the Louisville Country Club ended in tragedy about 1 a.m. today when 17-year-old William L. Hinrichs was killed in an automobile crash on Old Brownsboro Road.

The accident victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lansing M. Hinrichs, 305 Chelsea Road.

Miss Ann Henderson, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henderson, 7604 Devondale Court, was seriously injured. She was hurled out of the car the Hinrichs youth was driving after it crashed into a big tree.

The car was southbound toward Louisville, on Old Brownsboro Road. State Trooper Thomas Brown said the car skidded to the left, across the northbound lane, and left 145 feet of skid marks on the road.

County police said friends of the Hinrichs youth and the Henderson girl were following in several other cars. They telephoned for help after coming upon the crash.

The officers quoted the friends as saying they all had driven into Oldham County in youth had brain and internal and multiple fractures.

In addition to his parents he is survived by a sister, Miss Gail Hinrichs; a grandfather, William Meissel of Suffolk, Va., and a grandmother, Mrs. Karl Hinrichs.

The funeral will be Friday at 10 a.m. at Pearson's, 149 Brickridge Lane.

The family requests that expressions of sympathy take the form of contributions to the Diocesan Camp Fund of the Episcopal Church, addressed to Christ Church Cathedral.

driven into Oldham County in search of a place to have breakfast after leaving the private dance party at the country club. They failed to find an open restaurant and were returning to Jefferson County when the crash occurred.

Miss Henderson, a University of Louisville student, is reported in serious condition at General Hospital. Her father is general manager of Hoffman Water Heater Division of Lawson Manufacturing Company, 1715 Dixie Highway.

Was Waggener Athlete

The Hinrichs youth was the son of the general manager of Girdler Catalyst, 4900 Crittenden Drive, a unit of Chemetron Corporation.

Young Hinrichs was an athlete with an outstanding academic record at Waggener School, where he would have been a senior next fall.

He played first string end on the football team last season. This spring he was one of 59 juniors in the Louisville area to win Carnegie Corporation grants to attend the University of Louisville this summer.

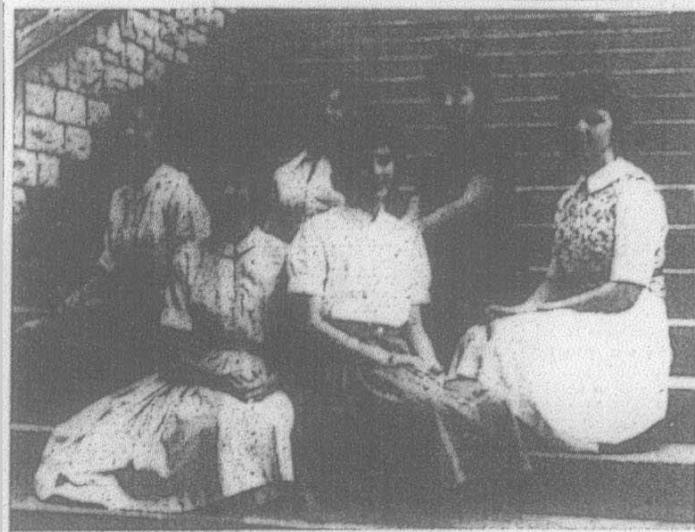

He was a member of St. Matthews Episcopal Church, where he served as an acolyte.

Trooper Brown said the car Hinrichs was driving swerved off the road on a curve near Sleepy Hollow about two miles inside the Oldham County line.

The left side of the car—the driver's side—suffered the brunt of the impact with the tree.

Deputy Coroner Lister Witherspoon said the Hinrichs

St. M. youth, river victim

A St. Matthews youth lost his life last Sunday morning while swimming in the Ohio River, near 12-mile Island, as a member of the Sea Scouts.

Companions tried to save William Frederick Harrer, 15, of 3814 Alton Rd., after he came up once and failed to appear the second time in some 12 feet of slow moving water.

Young Harrer was one of 19 Sea Scouts on an over-night outing aboard a 40-foot houseboat at the time.

According to witnesses, young Harrer and another youth started for a swim toward 12-mile Island, and Harrer went under and came up once. Dozens of his fellow Sea Scouts searched the area for him to no avail. Dragging operations which followed and continued the next day located the body about 10 a.m. Monday in the vicinity where he was last seen.

One of the three adult Sea Scout leaders in the party said that it was believed that young Harrer suffered cramps shortly after he hit the water. He added that they thought he was an adequate swimmer. But his mother, Mrs. Dorothy E. Harrer, said that her son could swim some but was not considered a good swimmer.

Harrer a junior at Waggener High School, had been a member of the Sea Scouts since last fall. The organization is sponsored by the Coast Guard Auxiliary. He was a member of the Harvey Brown Presbyterian Church.

Survivors in addition to his mother are his father, William W. Harrer; a sister, Margaret Ann Harrer, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Gray, Sapulpa, Okla.

The funeral was held at 10 a.m. yesterday at Pearson's, 149 Breckinridge, and burial was in Resthaven Memorial Gardens.

MESSAGE TO PARENTS

This report comes to the parent six times during the school year. It contains information in two related areas of learning - academic achievement and conduct. By achievement is meant the level of the pupil's academic progress during any one reporting period. By conduct is meant his cooperation with all persons with whom he must work: his courtesy towards them, his acceptance of responsibility, his citizenship, and his development of satisfactory study habits.

A pupil's grade is never reduced as a means of punishment. Undesirable behavior is reflected in the conduct grade. However, consistently low conduct grades often contribute to low subject grades.

Vacations end for teachers, too

Next week it's back to school for teachers, too. With the teaching of five biology classes at Waggener High and directing the girls drill corps there, Mrs. Sam Evans finds that time won't permit a favorite vacation activity - growing, caring for flowers in the yard of her home, 510 Brookview. Her fishing will also be restricted.

Waggener

All's Well by Susan Pillans

With registration completed and classes moving on schedule, Waggener High School is continuing into its eighth year.

Commenting on the opening of school, Mr. Earl A. Duncan, principal, stated. "I'm looking forward to the best school year in the short history of Waggener." Mr. Arthur Draut and Mr. Sidney Baxter, Assistant principals, feel that the school's opening had been most orderly an successful.

The total enrolment for the 1961-61 school year a 2,288 students. This number included 313 seniors, 306 juniors, 479 sophomores, 426 freshman, 333 eight graders, and 377 seventh graders.

The Chit-Chat, Waggener's school newspaper is in the midst of its annual subscription drive. There will be 16 issues this year containing 6 pages each. Mrs. Katherine Kirwin's Journalism Class will have the first copy of the paper out during the first week in October, and from then on every other week during the school year.

Waggener Drill Corps is sponsoring the WKLO Hi-Fi Club Dance in the Waggener Gym on October 7. Tickets will be $1stag and $1.25 drag at the door. However, if purchased from a Drill Corps member, the price is 75 cents stag and $1 drag.

Waggener's Varsity football team will meet its second challenge tomorrow night when they play against Atherton High School. The game will be held at Eastern's field at 8 p.m. September 14, 1961

Two students off to college with Yellowstone memories

Two St. Matthews area boys have gone off to college with memories of an eventful summer at Yellowstone National Park. The two, Doug French and Jim May, returned home last Thursday after working all summer at Old Faithful Inn.

Jim brought home mountain trout to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim May of 3908 Elfin Road, as evidence of his skill as a fisherman in Yellowstone, and Doug brought his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard French, 3936 Nanz, a pair of seven-point matched antlers from an Elk, which he found while on a camping trip.

The fish and antlers caused somewhat of a problem for the boys en route home, since they had three friends as passengers as far as Mexico, Mo., in addition to all of their luggage.

Now Doug's parents felt obligated to find a place to display the antlers since there was an ordeal in bringing them from Wyoming. But Mrs. French says the antlers present a problem as they are huge.

The Mays were to busy, following Jim's arrival, getting him ready for college to have a fish fry, so the fish went into the Mays' deep freeze.

Both boys have enrolled at the University of Kentucky. They had only two days at home in which to regale their friends with tales of life in Yellowstone. One of the points of interest they tell about is that August 25 is celebrated as Christmas in the Park.

Their enthusiasm for Yellowstone has been contagious and several of their friends are applying for jobs there next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. French and Mr. and Mrs. May were among parents of freshman who were entertained with a special convocation and tea at the University last Sunday. The students attended Waggener last year. Sept. 14, 1961

Waggener

Activities get organized

Extra curricular activities are beginning to get organized as Waggener ends its second full week of school.

The seniors have begun to organize their class by electing their Executive Board. This is made up of one member from each homeroom. Those elected were Chuck Burton, Georgia Brucken, Joe Cunningham, Marilyn Gordon, Jerry Hunn, Sally Kelsall, Mike Patrick, Jan Pearce, David Stallard and Betty Talbott. The election of the senior officers will take place later this week.

Waggener's Student Council headed by Paul Keith, president; Rusty Garth, vice-president; Ann Hasley, secretary; and Mike Skelton, treasurer, are making plans for the election of representatives to the Council. These representatives will be elected from each homeroom in the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades.

Waggener would like to welcome the thirteen new members of their faculty this year. They are: Miss Sue Ellen Bayless, Music; Miss Anne Crockett, World History; Mr. Charles Day, Chemistry; Mrs. Edna Drake, Spanish; Mrs. Maymelon Edwards, English IV and Spanish; Mrs. Kathleen Hendrix, Commerce; Mr. Vernon O'Dell, U. S. History; Mrs. Paula Pendergrass, Latin I; Mrs. Ruth Peyton, Seventh grade core; Mr. Edwin Reese, Math; Mrs. Ann Slechler, English III; and Mrs. Donna Jayne Walters, Speech and Dramatics.

Waggener's Drill Corp spon. Miss Ann Crockett performed for the first time this year at the Waggener vs. Atherton game last Friday night. They began practice the later part of August and continue it now on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons. The corps is made up of ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade girls. The Majorettes are Suzanne McKinstry, Paulette Perkins, Patty Black, and Marion Poe. Their alternates are Fidele Hindman and Donna Christian. The Assistant Drum Majors are Betty Siemens and Shirley Wilsno.

The Wildcats will meet the Valley Vikings tomorrow night for Waggener's third game of the season. It will take place at Valley's field at 8:00 p.m. September 21, 1961

Educational TV testing slated at Waggener tonight

"Testing" will be the subject of a TV program in the telecast on the educational channel at the Waggener High school at 7:30 tonight.

The county-wide telecast is presented by the County Board of Education in conjunction with the County Council of the P.T.A. It is the first of a series of three educational telecasts to be offered to the community, according to Mrs. Orm Simpson, chairman of Audio Visual and T-V Committee of the Waggener P.T.A.

"Testing" will cover information on all types of nationally administered tests given, school children from grades one through 12. group discussion will follow the telecast.

All Waggener parent may attend. September 21, 1961

Waggener—Juniors elect officers, by Susan Pillans

Bruce Smith, elected by the juniors last week, is the president of the class of '63. The other officers are Henry Geisberg, vice-president; Kristy Hansen, secretary; and Donna Giannini treasurer.

Also elected last week was the junior class executive board. They are as follows: Dennis Beck, Charles Friedman, Lee Harbath, Barbara Keeling, Rod Larmee, Lillian Oppenheim, Bill Ransom, Niles Schoening, Phil Tarry and Charlie Traub. Plans are being made for the activities to this class throughout the coming year.

The Variety cheerleaders of Waggener have been selected as members of the United States Cheerleading Association. They are; Sherry Ross, captain; Marilyn Gordon, Leslie Kennedy, Perry Jo Kaplan, Nancy Morris, and Marilyn Curtis. Only three squads were chosen from Kentucky.

The new wine-colored curtains for the gym were put up last week. They were given as a gift to the school by the Class of '61.

The Lair, Waggener's year book, sponsored by Miss Irene Durham, has started its annual subscription drive. It will cost $4.50 now and $5.00 if bought in the spring. Large color pictures will be included in the Lair, and the book itself will again be the largest in the state.

The Waggener School will sponsor a combined show of magic and hypnotist Thursday, October 20, in the gym. The show will feature Preston, a nationally known hypnotist and predictionist. There will be performances at 3 and 8 p.m. Admission will be 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

The P.T.A. held an open house at Waggener, October 5. Parents came for a short business meeting and then proceeded to follow their child's schedule. Each teacher conducted the classes for 10 minutes. In this time they explained the plans and work outline for the coming year. Earl Duncan, principal, said that the crowd was estimated between 3,000 and 3,500, the largest ever to attend.

Waggener will play the Eastern Eagles this Friday night on Eastern's field at 8. It is the sixth game and one of the biggest of the season.

Student's generally for classroom TV, by Retta Johnston

Educational television is here to stay—that is the one sure thing about it. However there are many other aspects of it that are not so certain. What size class is the most effective? How much of a class period should be conducted “through the waves?” What precisely is the role of the classroom teacher in his “follow up?” What is to be done about the students who are above or below the level of the TV classes?

The success of educational TV has been established—by the Ford Foundations study of its ETV program, by nationwide statistics for which the yardstick is an achievement test given to the TV classes and to “control classes” which follow the same program of study in a conventional class, and by the testimonies of teachers and mentors in the field of education.

But, because this success is too often viewed by the public only in the light of statistics and statements from the higher echelons, it seems essential to do to those who are most directly affected by the program—its local administrators, teachers, and students.

Waggener stands as a fairly typical participant in the ETV program. It has been on the program for the past four years and at present five classes, averaging about 220 students, are conducted with the aid of TV.

The procedure for a class is briefly this—in a large room in a wing of Waggener, part of which is blocked off as office space for participating teachers and aids, the students assemble and turn their desks toward one of the seven TV sets. After the 25 minute program the teacher, using a microphone, follows up with a period of questions and answers, individual reports, group discussion or group projects which lasts from 20 to 30 minutes. This large class procedure is known as the Stoddard Plan.

Many less recently constructed schools, such as eastern, do not have space that was planned for this use and have had to improvise by using their auditoriums and cafeterias.

The general consensus of those interviewed at Waggener is that these large classes are the main disadvantage of their program but as this program admittedly originated as an “economy move” the classes will continue until adequate facilities and teachers are available. This problem was echoed by administrators at Eastern and apparently it is acute throughout Jefferson County.

These large classes bring in criticism from parents, teachers and students that the program lacks “personal relationships” and “individual attention.”

“When the classes get down to groups of 50,” says Lauren Boyen who teaches a 10th grade English class of 230 students at Wagener, “I will have no objection to our program.”

Mr. Boyen compensates for this lack of personal relationship joking with the students, encouraging them to have conference with him, and encouraging them to hand in written compositions. Mr. Boyen teaches two other classes and has a total of 313 students. (The maximum load is 150.)

As to the actual teaching that TV lecture is done on the TV, many advantages were cited by teachers and students at Waggener. The main ones were these: The TV exposes students to audio and visual material that is not accessible to the ordinary class. For example, the camera can magnify a part of the heart and simultaneously the sound of its beat can be intensified. The program can run experiments, show movies, and do the things that the average classroom could not possibly do. And, as one teacher said, “it puts each student on the front row.”

Secondly, the TV teachers are superior teachers. This was generally agreed on by students and teachers interviewed at Waggener. (A daily lesson is usually the full load of a TV teacher and a whole summer is devoted to the preparation of a class.)

And, thirdly, a great deal of extraneous material is eliminated and therefore each period demands much more concentrated attention from the student. Mr. Vernon Odell who teaches an American History class, feels this is one of the most important advantages of ETV and says improved attention is very noticeable in his class.

The classroom teacher plans his class periods with a weekly outline of the TV classes. The TV teacher, the classroom teacher, and the student follow a textbook. The classroom teacher makes up tests and grades them. (The aides grade objective tests.) The TV teacher meets regularly with the classroom teacher to voice their criticisms and make suggestions.

The importance of using the TV lecture only as a source of information which does not interfere with the teachers method and choice of material was pointed out by Mr. Boyen.

For those students who, are above or below the level of the TV class, the classroom teachers at Waggener hold a weekly 25 minute period of aid. And, in many cases, there are completely separate classes for these students.

Students at Waggener had this to say about ETV: Rhonda and Rhoda Lusk, twins who live at 8626 Whipps Bend Road are in accord about the TV program. They both feel it has improved their concentration and that they have learned a lot in their class. Rhonda added that she feels it “covers more detail” and she said, “if you get behind, you just get a conference slip.”

“You learn to take notes and I think they have a better quality of teachers,” says Billie Kays Gillette of 304 Merriman Road. Billie Kay has had three TV classes—English, Science and Math. “In science, there is a definite advantage to seeing things illustrated,” she says and she likes the way the material is presented in the English class.

Judy Johnson of 404 Macon says she would like a little more individual attention. “I can pass in here but there just isn't enough time for each student,” she says.

Waggener-Band, Drill Corps to travel to Danville...officers are elected...soc hop slated
by Susan Pillans

For the third straight year the 95 members of Waggener's Band and Drill Corps will travel to Danville on October 28, where both groups will be guests at Centre College's homecoming game. They have been busily practicing for the performance to be held at pre-game and half time. They will also participate in a parade through downtown Danville to the football stadium.

School buses will provide the transportation to the college, lunch will be served, and later a tour of the campus will be made by the two groups. Mr. Carl Market, band director, and Mrs. Grace Evans, drill crop, sponsor, feel that the Danville trip is an outstanding experience for all those involved.

Other extra-curricular activity have organized again this year. The Future Teachers of America elected Darlene Harnett, president; Judi McMahon, vice-president; Leah Snyder, secretary; Ruth Tobaben, treasurer; and Sandy Pollack, sergeant-at-arms. The club, whose purpose is to encourage students to enter the teaching profession is sponsored by Mrs. Christine Ridge.

Also elected were the officers of the Future Business Leaders of America. They are: Lynda Cates, president; Marcia Rodman, vice-president; Pat Grattan, secretary; Barbara Gordon, treasurer; and Rosalie Donm, reporter. The group is sponsored by Mrs. Kathleen Hendrix.

The Junior Class is sponsoring their first soc-hop on November 2. It will be held in Waggener's gym from 8 to 12 p.m. with music furnished by "Pontius and the Pilates." The class is also making tentative plans for the annual football dance which will be held in November.

Mrs. Hannah Baird has selected the staff to head the Introspect. Waggener's literary publication, which she sponsors. The staff is: Helen Bisha and Bruce Chang, co-editors; Susan Humble, publicity manager; and Molly McAllister, promotion manager. This year the entire staff has planned to work directly with the English and Core classes in program encouraging creative writing. From the works of the Waggener students the magazine will be prepared and published in the spring.

After having won their first football game of the season last Friday, the Wildcats will challenge the Durrett Demons on the Durrett field at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Local teacher helped to pilot merit pay project

A Waggener High School faculty member was project chairman for the recent Jefferson County Merit-Pay plan for school teachers which won recognition recently at the southeast regional Conference of Classroom Teachers at Miami beach, Florida.

The teacher is Mrs. Ruth A. Payton, who is teaching her first year at Waggener and who has served in county schools for some 20 years. She is teaching in the 7th grade advance programs.

She and her co-workers just returned recently from Miami Beach with a certificate of merit given by the National Education Association. They also are due to receive a plaque from the association.

The study, which attempts to set up a merit pay scale for classroom teachers in Jefferson County, was made over a two year period. Mrs. Payton estimated that some 10,000 hours went into the study.

Some teachers in two pilot schools - Seneca High School and Medora Elementary School - are being used to test the plan.

The Merit-pay study currently is being studied by the N.E.A.

The classroom teacher Merit-pay study which won recognition recently is being shown by Mrs. Elsie Nelson, president of the Jefferson County Classroom Teachers Assn.; Miss Mary Everett, state local project representative, and Mrs. Ruth A. Payton, project chairman, of Waggener High School.

The senior class presents "Beauty and the Beef" tonight and Friday night in the Masonic Home auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets will be on sale at the door at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Many committees have been formed to aid in the producing the play. The committees and their chairmans are: Scenery: Miss Pat Merkley, Sandy Stevens; Ushers: Patsy Wood; Properties: Cassandra Colvin; Costumes: Sally Sherman; Make-Up: Miss Walters, Karen Carter; Lighting: Woodie Wilson; Sound: Kirk Newell; Finance: Mr. Ben Averitt; Tickets: Marsha Cromeans; Programs: Sheila Janos; and Publicity: Jan Pearce.

The play is the story of a young high school girl who is extremely intelligent, but finds this gift to be a hindrance in her efforts to win the affections of the captain of the football team.

The annual football banquet and dance were held last Friday night at Waggener. The banquet included a dinner for Varsity and J. V. teams and cheerleaders, their dates and parents.

As part of the program, Fred Davis, avid supporter of the teams, spoke to the group on the importance of football and all athletics.

Tom Helfrich, senior, was voted by his teammates as Most Valuable Player of the year. Both he and Jim Brunnhoeffler were selected as co-captains for this past season.

Les Anderson received the "gold brick" award. These awards, as well as the other senior football sweaters and jackets, were presented by the head coach, Martin Deim. Junior, sophomore and J. V. letters were then given out by the assistant coaches, Ronnie Cain and Rodney Bagby and J.V. coaches, William Schureck and William Woodward.

The football dance was held later that evening and was sponsored by the junior class. Nancy Atix was crowned football queen by the newly elected co-captains. Her court included: Marilyn Gordon, Sue Rommel, Sherry Ross and Babs Wilson.

The Senior girls defeated the Junior girls last Friday afternoon 26 to 13 in the second annual flag football game.

Seniors, Jean Poland, Sue Stafford, Nancy Atix and Karen Atteberry were outstanding in the backfield offense. Juniors, Sue Pankonin, Martha Robertson, Jeanne Hathaway and Carolgene Wise, proved, however, to have great determination against these upperclassmen.

Each team was coached by boys from the junior or senior class. For the seniors, Jack Burrice, Lewis Lyons, Randy Alfred, Dave Stallard, and Chuck Burton composed the staff.

Coaching the Juniors were Bruce Smith, Orbin Green and John Schlebel. The officials for the game were Rudy Miller, Jim Brunnhoeffler, Tom Helfrich, David Neideffer, and Charles Day, timekeeper.

Waggener congratulates Martha Cromeans, Susan Simpson, and James Stierle on receiving letters of commendation from the National Merit Testing Board.

The newly formed Math Club sponsored by Mr. William Schureck elected officers recently. They are: president, Patty James; vice-president, Cooper Mosely; secretary, Sheila Janos, and treasurer, John Fields.

WAGGENER PTA WILL MEET AT 8 TONIGHT

The Waggener P.T.A. will meet at 8 p.m. tonight following a telecast. Discussion groups will convene in the classrooms, and a short business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Frederick Kaestner, president.
